The DOH has made a number of changes to the exclusion criteria. The new exclusions are as follows:

- Any person under the age of 18 years old
- Any patient with an American Society of Anaesthesiologists (ASA) score of 3 (who is unstable), unless the appropriate critical care facilities that meet the 'levels of critical care for adult patients' standards and guidelines (Intensive Care Society 2002) are available
- Any patient with a BMI greater than 35, unless no co-morbidities and then a maximum of 40
- A patient who has a current and significantly unstable psychiatric disorder where the approved facility cannot reasonably be expected to accommodate the patient's needs
